Genoua, Jan. 14.

THe Horſe we told you in our laſt, was ordered to march to the Frontiers of Monferrat, upon ſome diſorders that hed happened between the Subjects of this State, and thoſe of the Duke of Mantoua, have not by reaſon of the great Snow that has fallen, been able to get thither, though by what we hear ſince, they may ſpare themſelves the trouble, for that the Countrey-people have been ſo wiſe as to agree among themſelves. From Marſeilles we have an Account, that eight French Gallies were ready to ſail for theſe Coaſts, ſo that it ſeems the French King intends to have always a Squadron abroad in theſe Seas. We have heen told that great preparations were making at Thoulon, in order to the putting a very conſiderable Fleet to Sea in the Spring; and that a Squadron thereof was to be particularly employed againſt the Tripolins, who hitherto refuſe to make a Peace with the French, notwithſtanding all the endeavours that have been uſed for that purpoſe; and that the Sieur du Queſne was the laſt Summer with the Squadron under his Command before Tripoli to propoſe the Peace; but ſome perſons who came hither not long ſince from Thoulon, ſay, they neither ſaw nor heard of any man of War to be then fitting out there.

Vienna, Jan. 15. It is now out of all doubt, that the Emperor to gratifie the Hungarians, has appointed a General-Dyet of that Kingdom to meet at Newſtadt, in order to the compoſing the Affairs of that Countrey, by ſuch Settlements, as may redreſs the Grievances of thoſe who have ground to complain, and unite the whole Kingdom in their Duty and Obedience to his Imperial Majeſty; but this is like to prove a great Work, and will require great Prudence and Moderation in thoſe that are to manage it. There are thoſe that ſay already, that the leading Men among the Hungarians, notwithſtanding their fair pretences, and the diſpoſition they ſeem to be in, to bring things to an accommodation, will be ſo unreaſonable in their Demands, that the Emperor will not be able to cloſe with them: but we will hope better, and that as they pretend the publick good, ſo they will make that their only aim, and not be influenced by Self Intereſts.

Lintz, Jan. 18. This day was obſerved at Court the Birth-day of the Arch-Dutcheſs the Emperors Daughter, who is now twelve years old; ſome will ſtill ſpeak as if there were a likelyhood of her Marrying with the Elector of Bavaria, though others ſay he is to have a Princeſs of Neuburg. The great diſcourſe at preſent at this Court is, concerning the Affairs of Hungary: That the Emperor has appointed a Meeting of the States of that Kingdom, is certain; and we are told that he has named the Count of Starenberg, the Baron Herwart, and the Baron Bucelini to be there as his Commiſſioners, till ſuch time as his Imperial Majeſty goes thither himſelf, which he will not do, till he ſee what ſucceſs things are like to have, concerning which, People have different opinions; ſome believe the Hungarians will be ſo moderate in their deſires, that they will eaſily be granted them, and others think the contrary. The Marquis de Seppeville, Envoye Extraordinary from the French King, has had his Audiences of the Emperor and Empreſs, in which nothing paſſed but Compliments.

Francfort, Jan. 20. We can write nothing from hence, for things in theſe parts are at preſent very quiet, but of our fears and apprehenſions of what's to come; a War with France is the ſubject of them, but with what ground we cannot yet tell, beſides that which is given by the preparations the French have made in Lorrain and Alſace. The matter of the Mint is not yet determined.

Strasburg, Jan. 21. The Baron de Monclar is going for France, to receive as is believed, the Kings Orders concerning what he is to do in theſe parts: againſt his return, which will be very ſpeedy, its ſaid the Forces will be drawn together, and all things in a readineſs for the executing their Deſigns, which though we cannot yet particularly ſay what they are, yet this City has every day more and more ground to ſuſpect that the French will begin with them. It is not to be ſaid what Magazines they have laid up, and what Proviſion has been made of Artillery and evey thing elſe, and now in a ſhort time we ſhall ſee what uſe they will put them to.

Hamburg, Jan 24. The Letters we receive from Warſaw, tell us, that the Dyet was met, but give us not any Account either of what had been propoſed to them on the part of the King to be the ſubject of their Debate, or of what had been done by them. The Duke of Zell having a deſign to make the Town of Harbourg a place of Trade, has granted it ſeveral Priviledges, and particularly, ſuch as may encourage the coming thither of ſtrangers, who among other things, are promiſed the free enjoyment of their Religion. The City of Leipzick being in a manner wholly freed of the Plague, the Magiſtrates have cauſed to be publiſhed That the Fair which uſes to be held there annually on the 6th of February, ſhall this year be kept on the 13th of the ſame Month. The Letters from Berlin tell us, that the Elector of Brandenburg had appointed Commiſſioners, who were to examine the Inventories that have been taken of the Goods, unladen out of the Spaniſh Ship taken in the Road of Oſtend, and to proceed, as is ſaid, to the Sale of them.
